A collection of chapters outlining what I would add, expand, and change if I got to rewrite this already wonderful show.

Hyperbeasts: Dormant Forms

Listen, the bond the Heralds had with their Hyperbeasts was so cute. So what if the Hyperbeasts had smaller secondary forms that couldn't Hyperjump or attack and didn't interfere with Gormiti summoning? They'd just be cute little pets following the boys around, and it'd be adorable.

Besides, it would give Trek the pet he should've gotten during that one episode with the bunny-puppy. And Ikor definitely needs a pet, so we can have more of his emotional growth and ridiculously formal way of bonding with Cryos (introducing himself and kneeling — that's how he bonded with his giant polar bear pet, and I find that so cute).

I haven't finished the show yet, but if there's ever a fifth Hyperbeast (Ao-Ki is technically the Herald of Light/Shadow, so shouldn't she get a fun pet at least?), then Ao-Ki could have a little pet following her around Tower as well! That'd be nice.
